

Drew Jenkins is currently the CEO and founder of Global Nomad Solutions, LLC (GNS) since founding the company in January 2017. Drew has a rich background in operations, security, logistics, and a wealth of more than 30 years of international relations experience. He has lived, worked, and traveled to over 60 countries spanning North America, Latin America, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East while working for the U.S. Government as both a military officer and diplomat. Drew also has extensive experience working in higher education, political/military/security policy development, and global intelligence.

Drew has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of Colorado and a Master of Arts degree in International Relations and Business from San Diego State University. Drew is fluent in Spanish and Greek languages and is a Disabled Veteran having served with honor and distinction in three armed conflicts while in the US Army. GNS is a Service Disabled Veteran Owned Business (SDVOSB) and takes pride in developing partnerships with companies to ensure the safety and security of their employees.